

George Washington's famed Pew plaque in Christ Church, Philadelphia, "the nation's church." Removed in Spring, 2015, and replaced with a new plaque, minus the Seal of the United States and George Washington's Coat of Arms (stars and stripes), from whence came the U.S. Flag, designed by Washington, and drawn by Francis Hopkinson, the artist. Photographer: John W. Wrigley.